Oil Activity to Start Soon On 5,800 Block Just East of Hamlin

That there is oil in paying quantities just east of Hamlin is the belief of many people and as an evidence of what an oil company believes, the Iron Mountain Oil Co., the one which brought in the discovery well, east of Avoca, is putting its money into a large block of possible oil bearing lands in this community.

A block has been formed, consisting of 5,800 acres from the Austin & Williams Leagues, Number 338, 339 and 3340, which begins about two and half miles southeast of Hamlin. Everything, it appears is in proper shape for the drilling to start soon.

The contract calls for a test of 1,000 feet on this tract. According to Tate May, one of the promoters, fifty per cent of the titles have been examined and approved. When ALL of the 5,800 acres have been examined and approved the owners will receive $1.00 per acre, as a drilling contract.

That a drilling will take place is unquestionable. That oil of greater or less proportions will be found is the general belief. Several years ago, wild cat wells were sunk in the Abbie community, and on the Routh farm south of Hamlin, but the depth was not what this proposition calls for.

Just where the test will be located is known only to the Iron Mountain Company.

Horne Oil Company Gets Drilling Block of 4,100 Acres

Farther east of the Iron Mountain Company block is the Horne Oil Company Block, which consists of 4,100 acres. The Horne Company is from Dallas and has extensive holdings in Jones and Shackelford counties.

The Horne Oil Company is interested in the newest well in the Avoca area—the Maracaibo, that came in last week.

All titles to the block which we shall call the Abbie-Fairview Dome, have been examined and with a few "curative matters" this part of the preliminaries to drilling will be completed. The area covered by the 4,100 acres includes sections 2, 3, and 4 G. H. & H. RR Survey, 99-100 and 101 in the BBB & C Survey and Sub. Div. 28-29 and 30 A. & W. League No. 339 and Sub. No. 8, No. 338.

Information is that probably test location will be just east of the Abbie Baptist Church. This will be half mile from the Proctor test of 1930 and a quarter mile from the Teague test that showed some oil. Both of these former test gave plenty of indication that there is oil out that way.

The Horne Company could take 60 days after the final acceptance of titles before drilling but they indicate that they will start immediately after all papers are cleared.

With two companies hunting for oil pools east of Hamlin, we may expect interesting results in the near future.

Geologists have come to the conclusion that oil in Jones County and adjoining counties, especially Fisher, lies in pools, and not in a fold of earth. So if a dry hole is struck it would indicate that a non porous structure has been struck and maybe not far away is a porous section from which oil may be secured by use of acid. Maybe free oil will be located, depending on the structure.

T-Diamond Oil Well Expected Any Hour After Thursday Noon

Interest rising to red-hot proportions has been hanging in the balance in Hamlin for ten days, because of the feeling that the General Crude-Bryan No. 1, at the River, north of town was to come in any time as one of the newest of new wells about Hamlin.

In the drilling of this well, known in Hamlin as the T-DIAMOND RANCH location, they encountered attractive oil at about 3550 feet, but to make a test as a wildcat well should be, they went on to 4450 feet but failed to locate the oil.

OIL EXPECTED ANY TIME

Plugging back to the 3550 level, where oil was first found, they will apply the acid about noon, this Thursday, and a new oil field is expected in the T-Diamond Ranch before Sunday.

Across the river about one and one-half miles from the Bryan well, General Crude is drilling now about 1200 feet down on the Mrs. Harrison Ranch. A 127 foot derrick tops this location and they spudded with a big diameter bit, and all this of the Barrow Company and was means a deeper well than usual. Should oil be found in paying quantities in this Stonewall area it will be the making of one of West Texas best fields.

Oil wells in the Fisher County areas just west of Hamlin have been coming in and producing for so long till its a matter of fact now that when they drill they strike. All we need out that way is to drill and there the well is.

The most active part of the field now lies to the northwest in and about Haught No. 1. This is getting over the hill and a great pool is likely in that area.

Miss Mary Bigham returned Tuesday from Lubbock where she spent several days with her niece, Juanita Bigham, who is very ill in the West Texas Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Brown and daughter, Miss Eileen, and son, Emory, left Monday for Abilene, where they will make their home at 1026 Peach Street. Mr. and Mrs. Brown have lived in Hamlin for a number of years and have many friends here who regret to see them leave.

Mr. Triplett, secretary of the Anson Chamber of Commerce was a visitor in Hamlin, Wednesday afternoon. While here he called at our office and was very complimentary of the new Home of the Herald.

Mrs. J. R. Reynolds who has been very ill for several days is reported to be improving.

G. W. BRISTOW DIED SATURDAY

G. W. Bristow, who had been in ill health for several months, died at his home in the Boyd Chapel Community, on Sept. 4, 1937. Mr.

Bristow was born in Missouri on Dec. 18, 1870 and came to Texas soon afterward. He was united in marriage to Miss Cora Bennett on Nov. 26, 1890. To this union were born ten children, two of whom have predeceased their father in death. Those surviving are: W. D., Bishop, Clinton, Charlie and Frank Bristow; Mrs. Ruby Hall, Mrs. Hardy Birmingham and Miss Willard Bristow. Besides the wife and children, the deceased is survived by his brothers, J. F. of Rotan, J. T. of California, H. C. of Roaring Springs, E. L. of Ft. Worth, D. L. of Hamlin and Sam Bristow of Missouri and one sister, Mrs. Claude Dean of Lamesa.

Funeral services were conducted, Sunday by Rev. Reid, assisted by Rev. Bateman and Rev. Vaughan, at the Boyd Chapel Baptist Church of which he had been a faithful member for many years. The funeral was under the direction of the Barrow Funeral Home of Hamlin.

Pall bearers were his nephews: Roy Bristow, I. B. Ray, Elmo Kolb, Elbert Bristow, G. P. Harber and Gabe Gentry. Carrying the floral contributions were: Mrs. L. G. Holley, Mrs. Eric Crow, Miss Robbie Cornelius, Miss Marjory Dean, Mrs. Eldon Pope and his granddaughter Miss Hyacinth Hall.

As a tribute to the life of the deceased and love for the family there were sorrowing friends from a wide section of this country. As we looked into his face as he lay sleeping in his last long sleep, we saw a picture of the great, good life he had lived and knew he took leave of life without a fear. In his going we have lost a great man, one that will be missed not only by his dear wife, children and other relatives, but by everyone in the community.

Just as he was leaving, the anxieties and cares of this old world slipped away from him and Christ enfolded him in His arms and carried him across the dark waters to that glorious spirit land where he was met by the holy angels. So weep not relatives, he is gone in presence only, his precious spirit lingers. It can be well said of Mr. Bristow, "Servant of God, well done."

The Herald is grateful to Mrs. Earl Brown of Boyd Chapel for the above splendid sketch of our esteemed friend's life. G. W. Bristow was listed as one of the best friends the Herald Editor had. In the going of Mr. Bristow, Jones County has lost a first rate citizen and christian gentleman who will be remembered.

Tate May who is the Secretary-treasurer of the Hamlin National Loan Association, accompanied by Tom Holman, the President and Mayor Joe Culbertson, Vice-President, went to Sweetwater Thursday to attend a Conference of Secretary-Treasurers of this section and the officials of the Federal Land Bank of Houston.

Miss Annie Laurie Johnson will leave Friday for Coleman, where she will have charge of the Spanish department in the High School.

Hamlin once again suffered heavy losses by fire, when on Monday a sizeable blaze was discovered in the John Vaughan Machine and Welding Shop.

The discovery was made soon after the heavy thunder storm and shower that lasted perhaps thirty minutes.

The fire seemed to be originating in the rear part of the ceiling or roof structure of one of the two buildings that housed the Vaughan Machine Shop. The alarm was sounded and quickly the Fire Department was doing all that they could to reach the blaze, but in spite of the strong flow of water, the fire kept gaining headway. These buildings are "Iron Clad," and were among the early structures of Hamlin. The iron ceiling had been removed as a precautionary measure from the south building some time ago and it was Mr. Vaughan's plan to take the same steps on the other.

Investigations revealed that the fire started from an electric meter that was on the petition wall of the buildings. The heat from the meter evidently caught the timber back of the iron and the fire crawled up the frame work into the roofing structure.

A fire of that kind resists a fight. Black smoke boils right back and down on the firemen and besides an iron ceiling prevents water from reaching the fire underneath, while the roofing material sheds it from above—so the result is that time only is needed to complete a burn-down.

Soon both of the Vaughan houses were wrecked and the adjoining building which had only a wood frame division was going likewise. This building was a part of the George Howard store buildings and occupied by the J. B. Bowman Shoe Shop. By this time it looked as if the entire block was going and a call was phoned to Stamford. While they were responding, the Hamlin men kept up the fight and by the aid of the brick wall of the George Howard store, had the battle about won when their neighboring fire engine came dashing down Central Avenue. It took the Stamford fire engine just about 20-minutes to make the 20 miles. With Hamlin's two or three streams pouring water at the resisting and curling tin and the extra heavy stream from the Stamford machine, the fight was won.

Had not the brick wall intervened there is no doubt but that the whole block would have gone. The remaining places in the block undamaged was the one housing the pool hall (which was closed a few days ago) and the Perry Sparks Auto Supply. Mr. Sparks, fortunate as it may sound, had that day rented a new place up the street, next door to the Morgan Offices, and when the fire threatened his stock, he began moving. His great

R. T. Cybert, the "pear orchard man," was a visitor to the Herald Wednesday to announce the opening of his crop of luscious fruit. Mr. Cybert brought some enticing samples along to make proof of the size and quality.

Mrs. Jessie Waggoner returned Friday from El Paso where she spent a two weeks vacation. She was a companied home by her sister, Mr. C. L. Patterson and husband who turned to their home in El Paso Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Hackley turned Friday from a two week vacation at Stovall Hot Wells, Sow Bend Texas. They also were weekend visitors in San Angelo.

LEND A HAND

This year Fire Prevention Week will be observed from October 3 to 9. The slogan for the week, featured in posters and news releases issued by the National Board of Fire Underwriters, is "Lend a Hand."

This slogan is particularly apt. For if fire is to be prevented and controlled—and the hundred of millions of dollars and thousands of lives fire destroys each year, are to be being air-conditioned is constantly increasing, the railroads and the Pullman Company in the past year have installed air conditioning devices on approximately 1,700 passenger cars.

Of the total number of passenger cars which have been air-conditioned, the railroads on June 30, this year, had 4,751 in service. This included coaches, dining cars, and other types of passenger equipment.

The Pullman Company on the same date had 4,560 air-conditioned passenger cars in service, including sleeping cars, lounging cars, and other passenger equipment.

New passenger cars on order on July 1, this year, totaled 424 compared with 177 on January 1, this year, and 139 on July 1, 1936. The Pullman Company on July 1, this year had 161 new passenger cars on order.—Texas Booster.

This was a case where "one fish" fed the multitude and several bas- kets full were left.

You may "Cash in" on this.

Now here is another: A Hamlin man, one Pearl Fannin, strayed off down that way and started to fish in "Wild Cat Lake." Pearl soon hooked a beauty and the thing snatched away his fly rod—there he stood waist deep in water almost crying—finally he got a glimpse of his fishing "implement"—and doggoned if it did not have a "little ole 4 pound channel cat." Call this a "Tall Tale" from the Concho if you please—but W. L. Cash has 'em long and furious.

Not a Housewife—'A Neoclectress'

And is her face happy! Mrs. Ben D. Parker of Abilene had "time on her hands" so she thought about the campaign to re-name the modern West Texas woman, sponsored by the West Texas Utilities Company. As a substitute name for "housewife" she coined the word "Neoclectress"—meaning "a modern home maker alert to this new electric age." Above she is seen examining the instant cube release which is a feature of the electric refrigerator (Frigidaire) she received as a reward for her originality. Harold Austin, district manager for the service company, made the presentation.

Points and Personalities

by doris pope

Hamlin people, guided by a craving for the unusual and the exciting, can still be lured from their every day routines by shrieking sirens, smoke and flames. This was evidenced by the large crowd of spectators who gathered to watch our volunteer fire department battle the flames which destroyed three buildings in the business section and damaged two others.

Yes, we were there with a front row place, and we'll have to confess that one of our pet weaknesses is chasing the fire trucks. Also we made some rather interesting and amusing observations off different groups and individuals—honest, it's amazing what some people will do when greatly excited.

It isn't often that we see our fire department in action, for Hamlin has been very lucky in not having a great number of fires. However, these volunteer boys can really show some action when it's needed—even though the water pressure is LOW. So, boys, we hand you the bouquets this week.

—oo—

And didn't you feel little tingles of excitement chase up and down your spine when the Stamford fire department came blaring down Main Street with the siren wide open? It was almost like the three-alarm fire in the movies. No fooling, it is really good to know that Hamlin has some friendly neighbors who'll help when she sends an S O S call.

—oo—

We've heard about our dignified city officials, but nary a word did we believe until we saw Mayor Joe Culbertson trip over the fire hose and do a double-bounce Monday afternoon. (By the way, have you seen him since then?)

—oo—

Who was the red-haired young fellow from a neighboring town who made such clever (?) (?) remarks about our fair city during all of the excitement?

Great Father, Great Son
ARELY does a great father transmit his genius to his son. But the Hopkinsons of Philadelphia were exceptions to that rule.

Francis Hopkinson, born in 1737, was the first scholar entered at the University of Pennsylvania (then the College of Philadelphia) and was graduated from its first class. He held several positions of importance in Penn's colony, then moved to New Jersey. There he was a member of the provincial council until he was elected to the Continental congress from New Jersey and thus became one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. But other facts make him more notable than almost any of the other 55 signers of that document.

He wrote an allegory in which he recounted the wrongs of the colonies and did much to fan the spirit of revolution. He wrote the famous song "The Battle of the Kegs" satirizing the British scare over an attempt to blow up their ships with a crude submarine invented by a certain David Bushnell, and this song became the favorite of Washington's soldiers.

But most important is the fact that evidence exists which shows that he was the designer of the first Stars and Stripes as our national flag (the Betsy Ross tradition to the contrary notwithstanding) and that he had a hand in designing the first Great Seal of this nation.

His son, Joseph Hopkinson, born in 1770, followed closely in his father's footsteps. He also was graduated from the University of Pennsylvania, studied law and held several positions in the state and federal government. He helped found the Philadelphia Academy of Fine Arts, served as its president for many years and was vice-president of the American Philosophical Society which his father had helped found.

But he is best remembered for a song which he wrote—thus emulating his father again. It was "Hail Columbia" which was the only national song of this republic until Francis Scott Key wrote "The Star Spangled Banner."

The feeding value of cottonseed is due to its content of meal, hulls and oil. However, a ton of cottonseed contains only, on the average, 904 pounds of uncooked meats (which are converted into meal) and 553 pounds of hulls. There are 232 pounds of lint, dirt, stones and other waste in a ton of seed, none of which can be used by the animal, and—in addition, a ton of seed contains approximately 311 pounds of oil, an excessive amount which tends to scour animals and causes them to pass undigested or unused much of the natural food value of the meats and hulls.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cain, and little son of Sweetwater came over for the Labor Day week-end in Hamlin. Paul is with the Production Credit Association in that City, being an assistant to H. O. Berry, formerly of Hamlin.

Using Feeds in Most Efficient Form Profitable

COTTON GROWERS' SEED

WORTH MORE IF MEAL

AND HULLS ARE FED

this reason, the fact that cottonseed meal is more palatable than seed is important in keeping stock the uncooked meats contain in feed and insecuring efficient use of the feed.

Dairy producers are particularly interested in the fact that the quality of butter is better when meal and hulls are used than when cottonseed is fed. Excess oil in cottonseed results in brittle, tallowy butter objectionable to the housewife.

BETTER RETURNS SECURED

By converting their home-grown seed into cottonseed meal and hulls, Southern cotton growers get the maximum value from their seed in its most palatable, economical and efficient form for livestock feeding.

In the development of the livestock industry of the South, no single factor is of greater importance than the efficient use of available feeds. Certainly, the efficient use of cottonseed—the South's largest source of protein—by converting it into cottonseed meal and hulls, is of the greatest importance to cotton growers, as well as to livestock producers.

Proposed State of Texas Bldg. at World Fairs

AUSTIN, TEXAS.—The thrilling story of Texas will be carried to New York and San Francisco world's fairs in sound and color films if the Legislature adopt plans of the Texas Planning Board. The cost of the exhibits at both fairs will not exceed $225,000.

The sound and color film, depicting the industrial, agricultural, recreational, cultural and economic life in the state, would be shown in an air conditioned replica of the Alamo. The planners discarded the old type of fair and exposition exhibit as being too costly and wholly inadequate to show the 50,000,000 visitors expected at New York, and the 20,000,000 San Francisco fairmen expect to attend the Golden Gate Exposition, just what Texas is today.

The board chose the historic Alamo as best illustrating the spirit of Texas. Plans for each replica were drawn by Adams & Adams, San Antonio architects who helped to design the Hall of State at Dallas. As submitted by the architects the building plans call for an exact replica of the Alamo at New York and a slightly smaller replica at the San Francisco Fair.

In each of the chapels of the Alamo will be used as a lounging salon where Texans visiting the fairs may meet and rest in air conditioned comfort.

The auditorium will seat 500 persons at New York and about 350 at San Francisco. Each auditorium is modeled after the lines of the museum now nearing completion on the Alamo grounds in San Antonio.

An advantage of the sound movies, Hull Youngblood, vice chairman of the Board said, is that in the year and a half before the fairs open the cameras could get each phase of Texas life at its seasonal peak, thus assuring a presentation which would depict Texas as it really is.

The Board's recommendations provide for a director at each exhibit, stenographic help, motion picture operators, attendants and porte. Special literature extolling the advantages of Texas as a playground, an industrial state, an agricultural empire and as a cultural center is provided for in the plan.

Due to constitutional restrictions the financing of the exhibits probably will have to be done by popular subscription. The board is submitting a plan whereby such funds can be done under the laws of state.

A general law probably will be passed at the coming special session of the Legislature empowering the governor to appoint a joint world fair commission, which in turn would be empowered to incorporate as a non-profit organization to raise funds for a Texas exhibit at San Francisco and New York in 1939.

The same procedure was followed in 1904 when Texas exhibited at St. Louis world's fair and again in 1933 when Texas had a small exhibit at the Century of Progress in Chicago.

Uncommon Americans

First "America's Sweetheart"
LONG before a popular movie actress was given the title of "America's Sweetheart" there was another. Ask any man of fifty years or upwards and he will tell you her name. It was Annie Oakley.

She was born in a log cabin in Darke county, Ohio, in 1866 and her full name was Phoebe Anne Oakley Mozee. Her father died when she was six and one of the few possessions which he left was a Kentucky long rifle. Little Anne, who was something of a tomboy, soon began using this weapon to help fill the family larder with quail, squirrels and rabbits. She became an unusual markswoman and the fame of her skill spread to Cincinnati where hotel keepers had been buying the game which she killed.

When she was fifteen a noted sharpshooter named Frank E. Butler came to Cincinnati. He was accustomed to issue a challenge to all comers in a shooting match. This challenge was taken up by one of Anne's hotel-keeping patrons who urged her to shoot against Butler. The girl not only won the match but she won Butler's heart as well and a year or so later they were married. She began taking part in her husband's shooting act and, being a skilled showman, he pushed her more and more into the limelight and kept himself more and more in the background.

Then "Buffalo Bill" Cody organized his Wild West show and in 1885 the "Butler and Oakley" act joined it. But it wasn't long until the second half of the act was the whole act and as Annie Oakley she started on the career which made her the idol of Young America. "Little Sure Shot" she was named by the famous chief, Sitting Bull, when he went out with Buffalo Bill's show and as "Little Sure Shot" she became famous, not only throughout America but all over Europe as well.

One of her stunts was to use playing cards as targets and these cards, punctured by her bullets, became treasured souvenirs. In those days showmen who handed out free passes always punched a hole or two in them, thus saving a miscount when the day's proceeds were counted. Once a baseball magnate looked at a card which had been so thoroughly perforated that little was left. "Huh! Looks like Annie Oakley's shot at it!" he grunted. And from that day free passes became "Annie Oakleys."

The name of this remarkable woman whose career came to an end in 1926 is thus perpetuated in our "slang." But in the hearts of thousands of Americans today, the boys of yesteryear, it is enshrined as "America's Sweetheart."

The Only Cornet
NO, it's not a musical instrument. It's a commissioned army officer and there's only one in the world today. Whenever the chief of the militia bureau of the United States Army makes a report to the War Department, tabulating the number of generals, colonels, majors, captains and lieutenants, he writes down "Cornet: 1."

That one stands for Frederick Col- lons Wheeler, cornet in the headquarters troop of the Fifty-second Cavalry brigade, Pennsylvania National Guard, otherwise First troop, Philadelphia City cavalry.

The Philadelphia City cavalry was organized back in 1774 and naturally modeled its organization after British army custom. At that time the British army had the rank of cornet, which was equivalent to third Lieutenant. When congress passed the National Defense act in 1792, establishing a militia in the different states, it allowed the various military organizations in existence at that time to keep their accustomed privileges.

So the First troop retained the rank of cornet while the British did away with it many years ago. Thus it is the only military organization in the world which has a cornet. The troop is also unique in this respect: It has a guidon, presented to it at the outbreak of the Revolution in 1775, with a union of 13 alternate blue and white stripes in the upper left-hand corner, corresponding to the blue field in the present American flag. This is believed to be the first flag on which the 13 colonies were represented by 13 stripes.

On the guidon also appears silver bands denoting the troop's service in war as follows: Revolution—Trenton, Princeton, Brandywine, Germantown; Civil war: Gettysburg; Spanish-American—Porto Rico; World war—Champagne, Oise-Aisne, Lorraine, Meuse-Argonne, Ypres-Lys.

MC CAULLEY MATTERS

By JOHN P. HARDESTY

McCaulley public school got off to a good start on the 1937-38 term Monday. A large attendance of parents and patrons were present at the opening to give encouragement and co-operation to the trustees and faculty. A splendid program was provided by Miss Kena Rector, member of the teaching staff, consisting of readings, music numbers, brief addresses, etc., participated in by representatives of the different school grades. The local resident pastors, Rev. J. R. Bateman and Rev. Jno. P. Hardesty, made short talks, welcoming new teachers and greeting the old, and pledging their undivided loyalty and support to the school.

Two new teachers are on the faculty, Mrs. H. P. Powers, who succeeds Mrs. W. C. Jackson, resigned; and Miss Imogene Schultz, who succeeds Miss Hazel McClure, resigned.

The following families have recently moved away from our community: D. L. Nickless and family to McAllen; N. C. Moffett family to Sylvester and the C. M. Mitchell family to Lamesa.

Rev. J. R. Bateman, local M. E. pastor is conducting a revival at the Boyd Chapel, M. E. Church, assisted by pastor, Rev. Kendall of the Tuscumbia Methodist church.

Mother Kean, who has spent the summer at Bryson, Texas, has returned to spend some time with the family of her son, W. C. Kean.

Roland Stephenson, son of Mrs. W. H. Stephenson, left for Washington, D. C., last week, where he has accepted an appointment in the Civil Service department of the Federal Government.

Senior B. Y. P. U. County Rally will be held at Hitson Baptist church on Friday evening, Sept. 10th at 8 o'clock. Representatives from the different churches of Fisher County Baptist Association are expected to attend. Mrs. Wesley Akins, McCaulley, is the president. The Intermediates held their County-wide rally at North Roby last Monday evening.

Supt. D. L. Smith has moved to the D. L. Nickless home, Prof. Melvin Courtney to the home formerly occupied by D. L. Smith, and Prof. Jackson to the home formerly occupied by Mr. Courtney.

This community is pretty busy now for awhile with the gathering of cotton and feed crops, school in full swing. We may not be able to hand in much news as it will be hard to get busy people to stop and give us anything. However, we are glad that we have something to be busy about, as it keeps people out of devilment.

GETTING READY FOR REVIVAL MEETING

Sunday school at 9:45. Preaching at eleven. Subject for the morning hour, "Why I Go to Church." This is an answer to the article by Mr. William Corbin, in a recent issue of the American Magazine.

The Leagues will meet at seven. Preaching at 7:45. This is the beginning of our revival meeting. This meeting will be carried on somewhat different from most revival meetings.

Brother Nance will arrive on Monday, the thirteenth. He will at once begin to organize the forces for personal work. The only service we will have at the church during the week, will be Wednesday night, the 15th, at 7:45. We will have preaching service at this hour and at the close Brother Nance will have a special meeting of personal workers. Then Sunday morning, the 19th, we will have our regular services and Brother R. L. Butler will preach at the evening hour and we will have services twice daily the following week. Let each one search his or her own heart and ask the question, "Lord what can I do to make the meeting what it should be?"

Again we extend to all a hearty welcome and urge all Christian people to cooperate with us and help to make this meeting mean much for the moral uplift of the community.

Sincerely,
H. W. HANKS, Pastor.

J. W. Ezell and W. C. Russell made a business trip to Lamesa and Colorado, Monday. They report wonderful crops in the Lamesa country.

Knowledge does not comprise all which is contained in the large term of education. The feelings are to be disciplined; the passions are to be restrained; true and worthy motives are to be inspired; a profound religious feeling is to be instilled, and pure morality inculcated under all circumstances. All this comprised is education.—Daniel Webster.

THE REST OF THE RECORD

BY JAMES V. ALLRED
Governor of Texas

Quite a few of the newspapers have carried statements lately to the effect that we didn't need any new taxes. It's hard for me to understand this contention. When the Legislature met in regular session this year I told them that the general fund deficit would be approximately fifteen million dollars on August 31st. It has turned out to be just about that.

The trouble is, as I pointed out in my message to the regular session of the Legislature, that expenditures, at that time (last January) exceeded income about two and a half million dollars per year. I specifically stated that I could not recommend increases in appropriations other than a little over a million dollars for the insane asylums and other eleemosynary institutions. In the face of these recommendations the Legislature increased appropriations approximately four million dollars per year and not a single penny of additional revenue was finally provided to take care of either the deficit or the increased appropriations.

In addition to the money necessary to wipe out the deficit and to take care of these increases in appropriations, I recommended that additional monies be raised for old age assistance. This, too, was not done. I still think we need more money in the old age assistance fund to take care of many worthy cases. In my opinion, the trouble isn't so much with the law. We just need more money in the fund.

Besides we owe $1,627,000.00 on old age assistance warrants issued before the tax laws went into effect. Claude Teer, Chairman of the Commission, says we need more money for old age assistance. Unless new money is raised before the first of January, we are going to get into a tight and more people will have to be cut off.

Besides all this, the people recently adopted several constitutional amendment. I am sorry they didn't authorize the amendment to authorize the Legislature to pay public officers out of fees or salaries. This would have saved at least half a million dollars a year, but the people have spoken and I'm always willing to abide by the will of the majority.

Two amendments adopted authorized the State completely cooperate with the Federal Govt. in its social security program. One authorized aid to the needy blind, and the other to dependent neglected children. As yet I have no exact figures on how much aid to needy blind will cost, but aid to needy children is limited to one and a half million dollars a year for the State's part. In addition to this the people adopted the teachers' retirement amendment, and this is estimated to cost over two million dollars a year for the State's part.

Now all this adds up into millions. I'm the last person in the world to want to tax somebody, but when the people speak I think it's the duty of the Legislature and the Governor to carry out their wishes. The only way to raise this money is by taxation. It is painful, but necessary.

The argument is being made that improving business conditions will eliminate the necessity for new taxes. I hope business will continue to improve. Of course, Roger Babson is predicting another depression, but in any event, business will not improve to such an extent that present taxes will take care of an existing deficit of fifteen million dollars, increased appropriations of four or five million dollars per year, over one and a half million dollars which the old age assistance fund owes on outstanding warrants, at least two million dollars new money to go in the old age assistance fund, one and a half million dollars for aid of dependent children, and several millions for aid to the blind and the teachers retirement fund.

The Legislature meets on September 27th, at which time I will make my recommendations as to how this money should be raised, and it will be in their hands. I am going to work on this job as hard as I did for the repeal of the race track law, and hope you will help me with your moral support.

In view of the fact that all the big interests have unquestionably un-loosed most of the recent propaganda against new taxes, and are having messages to that effect sent to members of the Legislature, I think the people had better get busy and let the senators and representatives know their views.

I don't wish to call the legislature in special session and accomplish nothing. I delayed the call until the people could vote on these amendments. Now it would be a great help to the cause of the people as a whole if you would see, or write your representatives and senators and give them your views on the necessity of providing this revenue.

The money can be raised without substantial injury to anyone.

Texas is in a fortunate position as compared with most of the other states. Due to the wisdom of our forefathers in writing certain provisions of the Constitution, we have no great outstanding bonded indebtedness. We do not have an income tax. We do not have a sales tax, a transactions tax, or anything of the sort so common in every state around us. I hope we never have to have these burdensome, or nuisance taxes, but the fact remains that we owe it to ourselves to balance this budget, to adequately provide for old age assistance and to raise money for placing for other constitutional amendments into effect at an early date. Do you agree with me?

Education is a companion which no misfortune can depress—no crime destroy—no enemy alienate—no despotism enslave. At home, a friend; abroad, an introduction; in solitude, a solace; and in society, an ornament. Without it, what is man? a splendid slave, a reasoning savage.
